

Official Disclaimer – AiCop Ecosystem

This website and its content are part of an open and decentralized initiative known as AiCop, an ecosystem that integrates community, technology, innovation projects, and autonomous financial mechanisms.

AiCop is not a centralized entity, nor does it operate as a legally constituted company. Its developments are driven by independent contributors from various regions, under principles of transparency, collaboration, and collective construction.

Use of the AiCop Ecosystem

The tools, tokens, platforms, ideas, services, or products related to AiCop may be used by anyone, provided they comply with the legal framework in their respective country or jurisdiction.

By interacting with AiCop, the user assumes full responsibility for their actions and outcomes, acknowledging participation in a decentralized and evolving ecosystem.

No Financial or Legal Advice

Nothing on this website should be interpreted as legal, financial, or investment advice. Any economic, transactional, or strategic decision made by users is done at their own discretion, risk, and responsibility.

It is strongly recommended to consult with certified legal and financial professionals before participating in emerging technological initiatives.

About Tokens and Related Platforms

Any token associated with AiCop initiatives should be understood as a functional and experimental tool, and not as a financial asset or promise of return.

Participation in pools, exchanges, or smart contracts is entirely voluntary.

AiCop does not automatically endorse or validate any external platform, DEX, or system that integrates its developments, unless officially stated.

Community and Participation

The AiCop community is open, collaborative, and voluntary.

There are no contractual obligations between participants, and contributions do not grant legal rights over the ecosystem unless explicitly agreed upon through public and validated mechanisms.

Regulatory Compliance

Participants are responsible for complying with all applicable local regulations, including but not limited to:

- Consumer protection laws
- Anti-money laundering (AML) regulations
- Know Your Customer (KYC) policies

AiCop disclaims any liability for the misuse of its tools in unauthorized or illegal contexts.

Associated Risks

Participation in decentralized technologies, including those related to AiCop, involves technical, financial, and regulatory risks.

Values, functionalities, and access conditions may change or be suspended without prior notice.

There are no guarantees of profitability, permanence, or growth.

Jurisdiction

Certain regions may restrict or prohibit the use of crypto technologies or decentralized platforms.

It is the user's responsibility to verify and comply with their local legal framework before interacting with any component of AiCop.
